CANTON CRISIS.

FIGHTING BELIEVED IMMINENT.

LATEST REPORTS.

"The Situation Is Most Grave."

Shanghai's trouble is having its effects in war-weary Canton. Although hostilities between the rival camps are imminent, time has been found to raise a cry similar to that of Peking.

TROOPS ON THE MOVE.

(Reuter's Service.)

Canton, June 3.

The train service has been suspended.

On all three railways entering Canton, large movements are proceeding.

The situation is most grave. Fighting is believed to be imminent.

STUDENT PARADE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Canton, June 3.

To demonstrate their sympathy with the Shanghai rioters, hundreds of students held a mass parade yesterday afternoon, shouting "Down with Imperialism and Foreigners" when they marched past Shamien.

It has been stated that the Maritime Customs non-Chinese staff were called back to Shamien for safety about 2 p.m. until the parade was over.

Shamien's gates were closed but crowds of residents watched the proceedings from inside. The Police were armed and a picket of blue-jackets was landed on the island.

When the parade was passing the French barge, the French concession police treated it nonchalantly, taking little or no notice.

So-called cadets are again active with anti-foreign propaganda.

FIGHTING STARTED?

Reports have reached Canton of rival outposts having opened fire at one another in the East River district. The troops concerned are said to be those of General Yang Hsi-man, commander-in-chief of the non-Cantonese mercenaries, and General Hsu Shung-chi, commander-in-chief of the Kuomintang forces.

Troops are also on the move in the North River region.

The Yunnanese have been given a taste of the civil opposition the Soviets are stirring up against them. On the advice of "Red" Kuomintang Labourites, locomotive drivers have deserted the train services.

Yunnanese detachments are camping at the Railway Station. Anti-Communist staff officers have been trying to round up the skilled labour of the Canton-Samshui and Fatsan railways to run the trains on the Canton-Kowloon line (Chinese section).

Heavy field-guns, weapons of all kinds, munitions and war waggons were transferred this morning from Shekwan to the Canton-Kowloon Station (to the east of Canton) as the Communists may come from that direction.

The Communists are rallying at and around Honam where they have been mobilising, ostensibly as a jumping-off point for an attack on the mercenary non-Cantonese headquarters in Canton. Their press announces that General Hsu will soon be back in Canton when their party will immediately "nationalise" the electric light and waterworks plant.

Refugees are crowding the Hongkong-bound boats and much property and valuables are, as usual, finding their way into Shamien. The eastern outskirts of the city are full of Yunnanese patrols and martial law is still in force.

People coming into Hongkong from the East River district report considerable alarm over the recent trend of events. Two

EMPRESS DELAYED

The "Empress of Australia" has been delayed by fog and will not arrive in Hongkong till 8 a.m. to-morrow (Friday) morning.

PLANE'S CRASH.

Abbott Machine Wrecked.

STOLEN FLIGHT?

FORCED DESCENT INTO SWAMP.

Another accident has occurred in connection with the Abbott School of Aviation. One of the new aeroplanes which has been flying often over the City is now lying wrecked in a swamp in the New Territories.

This latest mishap is all the more regrettable as it has taken place during the absence of Mr. H. W. Abbott, who left for Shanghai by the s.s. "Malwa" last Friday on business connected with the inauguration of a passenger and air mail service.

Details of the accident as given in a police report this morning are that a mechanic who had been an

AGAIN THE CENTRE OF TROUBLE.

Canton city is again in the throes of strife. Our photograph shows a view on the Bund with Dutch Folly Island in the river. The non-Cantonese mercenaries hold the city and Dr. Sun Yat-sen's disciples, hold Honam, on the opposite side of the river.

CRITIC CRITICISED.

NEW TELEPHONE CO. DIRECTORS.

COMMENT IN COUNCIL.

Referring to an article appearing in yesterday's "Hongkong Daily Press" the Colonial Secretary at this afternoon's Legislative Council meeting stated that the action of the hon. member representing the Chamber of Commerce in seconding the resolution in regard to the formation of the telephone Company had been criticised. It had been stated that the hon. member had acted wrongly in that he was interested in the proposed company. As the Government had been in close communication with the Chamber of Commerce throughout the negotiations he (the Colonial Secretary) thought it was entirely proper that the hon. member should have seconded. He would gain nothing by seconding just as he would lose nothing by refraining from speaking or voting. He had been asked by the Government to express the views of the unofficial members. The Colonial Secretary termed the attack as wholly undeserved and showing a lack of knowledge of the facts. It was an attack which should be immediately resisted.

His Excellency the Governor also had a few strong remarks to make on the question. He said he had too high an opinion of the common sense of the inhabitants to suppose that anyone of them would be interested in or attach importance to the scurrilous attacks of an anonymous slanderer. The Council was familiar with the story of Justice Maule on the question of anonymous attacks. It could not be applied to printed passages in newspapers but the principle was sound.

His Excellency's voice then became inaudible but those in the immediate proximity called when he had finished another sentence.

assistant in the School took the machine out of the machine in Kowloon City and flew a distance of 30 miles when he crashed in a swamp at Lokmachau. The machine was badly damaged, but the pilot escaped injury and returned to Kowloon by motor car. The descent of the aeroplane into the swamp was witnessed by the Lokmachau Police.

A "China Mail" reporter called on Mr. W. George Bunter, the President of the Abbott School of Aviation, to clear up certain particulars regarding the accident. Mr. Bunter desired to contradict any impression which may have been formed that the "pilot" in this case was either a present or a former servant of the Company. The man so far has not been traced as he got away soon after his landing. The machine, which is a Curtiss plane named the "Oriole" and brought from Manila, after the inauguration ceremony of the School in January, was removed by some person on Tuesday afternoon, the watchman placed at the shed raising no objection as he thought that the man had authority to do so. Flying over the Police Station, the aeroplane nose-dived into the swamp, the unusual performance being witnessed by a large number of people.

Mr. Bunter visited the scene yesterday and found the aeroplane buried in the mud up to the propeller, with the tail poised in air. On inspection it was found that the body of the aeroplane was broken in two near the pilot's seat. There was no gasoline in the tank and the carburetor was empty. From this it is surmised that a forced landing was made owing to lack of fuel. It is stated that the aeroplane was heading in the direction of Nam-Tau across the border.

The machine will be dismantled and brought to Kowloon in a few days. In the meantime a guard has been placed over the other machines (Pitt) to prevent them from being tampered with. Two aeroplanes which Mr. Abbott brought from Manila are still in the roadways.

and clamouring for admission. A howl was brought up, but it was not used.

On learning from the delegates that permission to enter the Legation Quarter could not be granted, the crowds moved off in the direction of the Central Park.

There was no disorder.

"Explicit Protests."

Peking, June 2.

A Note, dated June 1, though handed to the Italian Minister this afternoon, says:—

"I have the honour to draw the most serious attention of your Excellency to the unhappy facts following, which occurred on May 30, in the International Concession, Shanghai. Following the arrest of students and acts of violence towards Chinese workers, several of whom were wounded, a certain number of students from the different universities at Shanghai proceeded on the afternoon of May 30, to the Police Station of the International Concession as a protest and made speeches. The armed intervention of the police led to more than 40 students being arrested; four being killed outright, six seriously wounded, of whom two succumbed a little while afterwards, and 17 were slightly wounded, three of whom, however, died later. On learning with emotion of the above facts, I beg to remark that whatever might have been the character of the demonstration by the students, who are young men of good families and full of patriotism and unarmed, they should not have been treated as ordinary malefactors, but instead of coming them by appropriate means, the police had recourse to extreme measures, which are essentially condemned by humanity and justice.

Consequently I find it absolutely necessary to address to your Excellency the most explicit protest, while reserving the right, when further reports giving complete details are received to formulate all claims which may result from this deplorable incident, for which the authorities of the Concession are entirely responsible.

I further beg your Excellency to bring to the attention of the Chinese Government the knowledge of the Chinese authorities of the International Concession, and to request them to take the necessary steps to prevent such incidents from recurring.

THE SHANGHAI RIOTS.

PEKING STUDENTS ABANDON PARADE.

LEGATIONS INCIDENT.

The Diplomatic Body's Decision To-day.

The Shanghai riots continue to be the chief topic in the news, and their effects are being felt as far afield as Peking and Canton.

PEKING INCIDENTS.

(By Courtesy of Daily Bulletin.)

Peking, June 3.

The students, this afternoon, proceeded to the Wanchow, where Minister Shen Jui-lin saw their representatives. He pointed out that the Government had already lodged a protest with the Powers and had sent Commissioners to Shanghai.

The students then stated that they desired to parade through the Legation Quarter, and after a discussion they sent four delegates to see the Doyen. The main body, in the meantime, had gathered outside the East Gate of the Quarter, which was closed, hammering on the gate been arrested, and to act in concert with the special Commissioners for Foreign Affairs there to prevent any eventual recurrence of similar incidents.

Japanese Press Comment.

TOKYO, June 3.

This morning's papers in their leading articles comment upon the Shanghai situation, the general opinion being that the situation has been caused by the "communist" influence working on the anti-foreign sentiment bred by the unilateral treaties between China and the Powers.

While sympathising with China's position, the papers emphasise that the present action frustrates rather than helps the cancelling of extraterritoriality.

Discussion by Diplomatic Body.

PEKING, June 3.

The Diplomatic body are meeting to-morrow, when it is understood they will discuss the Shanghai affair, and probably despatch a reply to the Wanchow Note immediately afterwards.

Further Clashes.

(Reuter's Service.)

SHANGHAI, June 3.

Further clashes have occurred in the central districts. Up to the present 21 strikers have been killed and 65 wounded.

Armoured cars have been rushed to the western district, which the sporadic rioters are finding a useful base for their operations against the Settlements.

At present there does not appear to be any ground on which to compose the differences owing to the foreigners' determination to suppress the riots, while the Chinese are too excited to listen to calm counsels.

The arrival of fresh batches of frenzied students reinforces the waverers.

Women Injured.

SHANGHAI, June 2.

The anti-foreign strike is spreading. All the foreign mills are now involved, also the telephones, water works, municipal electricity department, and some of the foreign newspapers.

The Municipal Council has succeeded in maintaining the public services by means of other labour.

A mob of 3,000 this morning attacked the Japanese iceworks. The police guards fired on the rioters, killed one and wounding five.

The attacks on individual foreigners continue. The rioters stoned tram cars and injured a number of women. Many students from other centres are arriving at Shanghai. Four platoons of British blue-jackets and marines are being landed this evening and a similar number to-morrow morning.

Latest Shanghai Position.

(Reuter's Service.)

Shanghai, June 4.

The rioters seem to be losing faith. Frenzied attacks on foreigners without collisions are reported to-day, but the strike is spreading. At two in the morning it was estimated that 100,000 have been called out, coolies greatly predominating.

The "North China Daily News" gives prominence to an article addressed "To the respectable Chinese of Shanghai." After explaining the situation, the paper says that sooner or later the rioters and agitators will be beaten. Meanwhile life will not be pleasant for anyone, but that will not deter the foreign authorities and their companies from standing firm and doing their utmost to crush the revolt and restore order. How long it will take to restore peace and order is not stated, but the paper says that the foreign authorities are determined to do so.

FOR ANEURISM, CANCER ETC.
A new medicine for the cure of Aneurism,
Cancer and Carcinoma by Injection and Internal use.

Most physicians and surgeons have expressed the opinion that Aneurism, Cancer and Carcinoma are incurable and many deaths have been caused by these dread diseases. Dr. T.
Matsuda, M.B., Professor of the Japanese
Imperial University has made a careful study of these diseases for several years and has at last discovered the use of "CARBONOLYNE" for injection and internal use. A large number of Japanese patients have been cured by the use of this medicine and it is now becoming well known for its curative properties.
Foreigners have always died of these diseases owing to failure to find a remedy.
Of late Dr. Sun Yat Sen is suffering from cancer of the liver which is a phase of one of the above-mentioned diseases. Those suffering from this disease will gradually develop fever, nervous pains, urinary troubles, head aches, dizziness and vomiting.
Various of these diseases are advised to inject "CARBONOLYNE" into the internally or by injection, the progress of the disease will be stopped and results quickly obtained. Cancer and Carcinoma will disappear and troubles will be reduced to a minimum and the patient will be cured by the use of "CARBONOLYNE".
Those having hereditary diseases are advised to take "CARBONOLYNE" in order to check the disease.
This medicine is the result of long experiment and has no injurious effect on the body.

IMPROVING YOUR RESEARCH AND HUMAN INTERVIEW

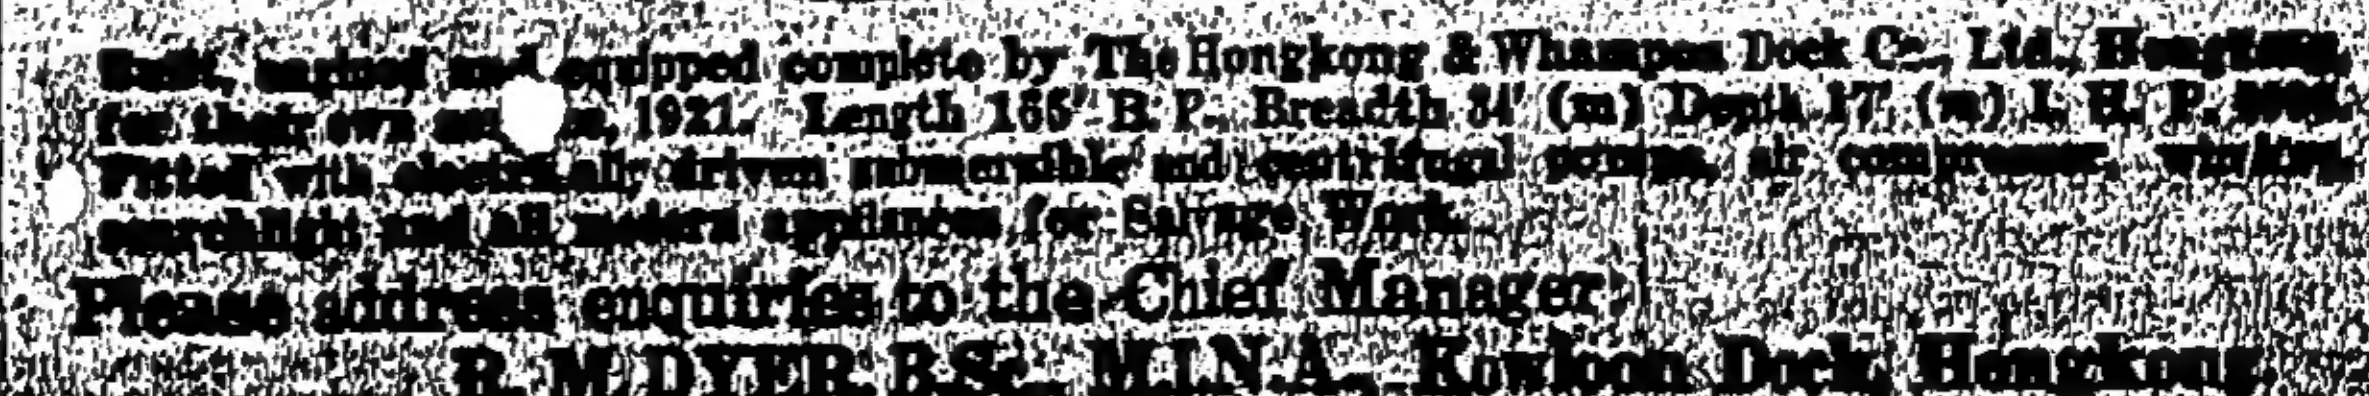

There was no surgeon with in 1,000 miles, and the operation was performed by two of the Mounted Police and a missionary. The operation relieved the pain, but Mr. Clay died on the following day, showing splendid courage to the last. The tragedy occurred in September last, but news of it has only just reached the police headquarters in the spring mail.

Sergeant Clay, who is a veteran of the Arctic, was absent on long patrol at the time, and attempts to reach him were frustrated by storms. Mrs. Clay was familiar with Arctic life. Such attacks by dogs have not been known hitherto. — "Central News."

Perth, W.A., June 2.—Major Pinedo flew from Carnarvon Perth a distance of 531 miles about five and a half hours. An interview he said he had flown 12,000 out of 34,000 miles entered in his trip. He is uncertain when he will continue his flight. Reuter.

ONLY ONE COURSE.

From all accounts the position in Shanghai is, if anything, worse. The student elements are still excited and frenzied, and therefore at present beyond the realm of reason and sense. For the first time the rioters have had resort to arms, and there is no saying at present where a very ugly situation will end. The one hopeful ray remains—that the Municipal authorities are determined not to give way to the frantic outbreak of the irresponsible students, many of whom are still only in their teens. In that attitude the authorities will have the solid backing of all the foreign Powers, Soviet Russia, of course, excepted.

There can be no question of discussing "peace terms" until the students first of all return to their classes, and refrain from inciting the rioters to violence against the foreigners. Tolerably safe guesses can be made as to the real forces behind the outbreak, but these are in a sense beside the point at the moment when hot-headed youth is running amok. The "North China Daily News" rightly sums up the position when it states that "there is only one way in which peace can be brought back and that is by the unconditional surrender of the students and other agitators." Any middle course would be as dangerous as it would be futile, for it would at once be misconstrued, and in the end do more harm than good to foreign interests. There cannot but be great inconvenience to foreign employers of labour whilst the trouble is acute. There will also be some embarrassment through scantier food supplies. But, in comparison with the vital issue at stake, these are mere details that must be cheerfully tolerated. Ugly—and even critical—though the situation be, nothing is to be gained by fanning the flames of passion amongst the Chinese in general. Once they are convinced that no parley is possible until the students return to their classes and the strikers to work, there is still a hope that wiser counsels will prevail before the anti-foreign ebullition spreads further.

Local Boxing.

The Hongkong Boxing Association carries out its self-imposed task under certain difficulties. The local supply of skilled amateurs is necessarily limited. The supply of the professional element is more limited still. When men of position in the professional world come along it is natural that every effort should be made to get them a showing. Every effort that is, within reason. The terms arranged between the opponents in the forthcoming fight, Dupre against Cartledge, have not been divulged; they are secret. Secrecy is a bad element. Previously the terms were either stated or rumoured. The Frenchman wanted a higher amount than he received on the last occasion—"win, lose, or draw"—his opponent to receive a much less sum although he had expressed a willingness to fight on the usual terms—"winner takes all" or a higher percentage than the loser. This latter we submit is the more satisfactory and likely to lead to stern fighting. We are not entitled to question the amount of the "prize" provided by the Boxing Association, but it is reasonable to suggest to the Association that it sets its face against one man getting a higher amount than his opponent no matter where the judges place him at the conclusion of a fight. The arguments are so obvious in favour of this suggestion that there is no need to reiterate any of them.

America's Murders.

President Coolidge is likely to convince no one, but himself, by statistics showing that many murders in America are committed by persons of the same race as the victims.

Britain, whilst other crimes are also more numerous. The President ascribes this to the fact that crimes rarely remain unpunished in Britain, whilst the reverse is true in America. In addition he is of opinion that the apparent lawlessness of Americans is due rather to carelessness than to moral laxity. There is no sense of conviction about such an utterance as this. If there is, it reflects hardly on police jurisdiction and the administration of the law. Most people will smile at the suggestion that the breaking of law is to be put down to carelessness rather than moral laxity. People as a rule do not commit murders, thefts, and the rest of the things coming under crime, from a sense of carelessness. It is moral laxity first and last, brought on by inherent traits, economic conditions, thriftlessness, and the sudden bursts of blind passion which sweep over people. Moralists have added drink to the things that make people err from the path of rectitude; but what is to be said of America where Prohibition is enforced and yet there has to be recorded eight times as many murders as take place in "wet" England? There is no deterrent to crime—that is, something that will totally stamp out crime. We can only work along scientific lines, also bringing to bear on the question a little sympathy for those who have fallen by the way.

A Kidnapping Scare.

In view of the fact that several kidnapping cases have occurred within the past few months in Shanghai, a report that is current in Hongkong may be alluded to, remarks the "North China Daily News." In Shanghai the kidnapping, at any rate within Settlement limits, has been practically always with the idea of obtaining a ransom from the parents, while of course in the country districts and neighbouring towns the idea has been to sell the victims as slaves. The Hongkong scare has something much more exciting about it than this, for the Chinese there have absorbed the rumour that the kidnapped boys are required for a sacrifice. The "China Mail" describes the case as follows:—

Common belief is that to ensure the supports of a bridge escaping the wrath of the water spirits, and to, appease the dragon into whose back the piers are driven, a number of boys must be offered as sacrifice, at the spot of the proposed bridge. To procure the boys, kidnappers are sent out.

It adds that when several years ago a harbour bridge was being discussed several of the Chinese sent their children up-country so that they might escape the operations of a gang of kidnappers believed to have been sent out by the contractor. This occurred at a time when no plans for the bridge were even in existence. What is happening now is that the attendance at schools has fallen off, and parents are keeping their children indoors because of the rumour. Actually three children are missing, but this is not out of the ordinary, for no amount of police work has ever yet succeeded in stamping out the kidnapping of boys and girls for the purpose of sale. Yet when people in China get such a notion into their heads as this one about sacrificial rites, it is difficult to erase it.

TO-DAY'S SMILE.

SHREDS AND PATCHES.

That the Dangerous Fallacies of "Bad Water are Obviated by the Addition of Wine or Spirits."

This is one of the dangerous fallacies, for it might easily get its believers in trouble. The late Sir Henry Thompson, F.R.C.S., said: "The only water safe for the Continental traveller to drink is a natural mineral water, and such is now always procurable throughout Europe, except in very remote or unfrequented places. In the latter circumstances no admixture of wine or spirit counteracts the poison in tainted water and makes it safe to drink, as people often delight to believe, but the simple process of boiling renders it perfectly harmless." A memorandum issued by the Local Government Board states: "It cannot be too distinctly understood that the dangerous qualities of bad water are not obviated by the addition of wine or spirits" (Art. 7.)

The Eton Montem. tem was a long celebrated and time-honoured ceremony peculiar to Eton, and said to have been coeval with the foundation of the college, and was observed biennially but latterly triennially down to the year 1844, when it was totally abolished. It was a procession of the scholars dressed either in military or fancy costume, to a small mount on the south side of the Bath Road (supposed to be a British or Saxon barrow), where they exacted money for salt, as the phrase was, from all persons present, and from travellers passing. The ceremony was called the Montem. The procession of boys, accompanied by bands of music and carrying standards, was usually followed by many old Etonians, and even by members of the royal family—in some cases by the king and queen. Arrived at Salt-hill, the boys ascended the "moss," or mount, the "captain" unfolded the grand standard, and delivered a speech in Latin, and the "salt" was collected. The principal "salt-bearers" were superbly dressed, and carried embroidered bags for the money. The donation of the king and queen was called the "royal salt," and tickets were given to those who had paid their salt. Immense numbers of people used to assemble to witness the procession, and the money collected frequently exceeded £1,000. After deducting the necessary expenses, the remainder was given to the senior scholar, who was elected to Cambridge, for his support at that University. The origin of this custom, notwithstanding much antiquarian research, is unknown. Some, however, are of opinion that it was identical with the bairn or boy-bishop. It originally took place on the 8th of December, the festival of St. Nicholas (the patron of children; being the day on which it was customary at Salisbury, and in other places where the ceremony was observed, to elect the boy-bishop, from among the children belonging to the cathedral), but afterwards it was held on Whitsun Tuesday.

An old custom, Boy's Bailiff, called the "Boy's Bailiff" formerly, prevailed at Wenlock, in Shropshire. It consisted of a man who wore a hair-cloth gown, and was called the bailiff, a recorder, justices, and other municipal officers. There were a large retinue of men and boys mounted on horse-back, begirt with wooden swords, which they carried on their right sides, so that they were obliged to draw their swords out with their left hands. They used to call at the gentlemen's houses in the franchise, where they were regaled with refreshment; and they afterwards assembled at the Guildhall, where the town clerk read some sort of riddle which they called their charter, one part of which was—

"We go from Bickford, and Badger, to Stoke on the close, To Monkhopon, Round Acton, and so return we."

The first three named places are the extreme points of the franchise, and the other two are on the return to Much Wenlock. This custom is supposed to have originated in going a-bantering.

Who says the A-CHINESE QUIP. Chinese have strain? This is not a Jewish from a Chinese Jest Book, published by Messrs. Kelly and Walsh:—

The son of a man who was being carried off by a tiger seized his bow and ran in pursuit. He was just drawing the bow to its full when his father called out from the tiger's mouth:—

—Shoot at its legs. My boy, shoot at its legs. Don't damage the skin, or no one will want to buy it.

RELICS OF A LOST WORLD.

"Twenty-five cases of Dinosaur bones and other fossils have been shipped from Tanganyika territory for the British Museum. They are the first fruits of an expedition led by Mr. W. E. C. Butler, which has been working there during the past season."

The name Dinosaur ("terrible lizards") suggests animals of great size and ferocity. But although it well suits such creatures as Tyrannosaurus—a giant with an enormous skull provided with the most formidable teeth of carnivorous type—it is less appropriate for some of the group which reach even more colossal dimensions, writes Sir Sidney F. Harmer, K.B.E., F.R.S., Director of the Natural History Department of the British Museum in a Home paper. Diplodocus, whose skeleton over 80 feet long is at the Natural History Museum, South Kensington, was a comparatively peaceful creature, and a glance at its almost inadequate skull is sufficient to show that it was a less dangerous opponent than Tyrannosaurus. Even the gigantic size which is generally associated with the popular idea of a dinosaur is not characteristic of the whole group, since some were of quite diminutive proportions.

GIANT DINOSAURS. Dinosaurs were reptiles which flourished in the Secondary Period—the middle of the three great divisions among which geologists distribute the fossil-bearing rocks. At a time when mammals were small and inoffensive, the dinosaurs were the dominant group of land animals, particularly in the Jurassic and Cretaceous periods, the latter including the age when the chalk was deposited.

They are divided into four groups. The first consisted of animals which walked on all fours and included the largest land animals ever known. Among these giants are Diplodocus, already referred to, and Gigantosaurus, the principal object of the British Museum Expedition. The second group were bipeds, and some of them were very active and swift. The third group were the "horned" dinosaurs, and the fourth group were the "saurischian" dinosaurs, which were the most numerous and varied. The first group were the "sauropods," and the second group were the "theropods." The third group were the "ornithomimids," and the fourth group were the "coelurosaurs." The first group were the "sauropods," and the second group were the "theropods." The third group were the "ornithomimids," and the fourth group were the "coelurosaurs."

—had a wonderful bony shield developed from the back of its head and forming an enormous frill, several feet across, protecting the front part of its body. This animal is represented by a skeleton at South Kensington, where its striking features may be studied.

A cast of the brain-cavity in the same museum will arouse astonishment at the diminutive size of the brain, which controlled the movements and behaviour of this huge creature.

UPRIGHT DINOSAURS. The third group were herbivorous, like the other two already mentioned, as may be inferred from the characters of the teeth. These animals differed from the members of the other two groups in walking on their hind legs in the attitude of a kangaroo, no doubt making use of their well-developed tail as an aid to locomotion.

The most familiar of this section (which includes small dinosaurs) is the remarkable Iguanodon, first discovered in this country, but best known from the descriptions which have been published of the bones of about thirty skeletons found together at a depth of 1,000 feet during coal-mining operations at Bernissart, Belgium. The skeleton of one of these animals is to be seen with those of Diplodocus and Triceratops at South Kensington.

The fourth of the main groups of dinosaurs included the carnivorous forms, which, no doubt, preyed on their herbivorous relations. Most of them seem to have walked on their hind legs, and some of them, such as Tyrannosaurus, already mentioned, were of very large size.

SEARCH FOR GIANT DINOSAURS. The large complete skeletons exhibited in the British Museum are all casts of originals in other museums, although the collection includes many separate bones and skeletons, or parts of them which are the real thing. Gigantosaurus is represented merely by the cast above mentioned. The animal is at present imperfectly known, and the mere fact of its colossal size is a sufficient reason for wishing to see it better represented in this country.

The question where it is to be found, is how open to us, and Mr. R. W. C. Butler has already been at work for the last few years in Tanganyika territory, where he has been searching for the bones of the lost world.

THE LOST WORLD. The discovery of the bones of the lost world, the dinosaurs, has been a great event in the history of science. It has opened up a new chapter in the history of the earth, and has shown us that there once lived creatures of a size and power which we can hardly imagine.

INTO THE NORTH.

AMUNDSEN STILL MISSING.

FEARS FOR A SON.

Death of Magnate Who Found the Money.

Where is Amundsen? The answer to this question still remains a secret of the icy North and steps are being taken to find the missing explorer.

ORGANIZED SEARCH.

Oslo, June 3. Systematic plans have been drawn up for search for Amundsen. Two Norwegian naval aeroplanes, which are being equipped with wireless, will operate from Spitzbergen towards East Greenland.

Captain D. MacMillan.

The French explorer Charcot will probably be requested to search the East Coast of Greenland. The MacMillan expedition will work from Cape Columbia.

DEATH FROM ANXIETY.

Rome, June 3. The American coal magnate Mr. Ellsworth, who financed the Amundsen flight, has died at Florence.

It is believed his death was largely due to anxiety over the disappearance of his son who is accompanying Amundsen.

Amundsen before he left said it was extremely improbable that flying would become impossible owing to the total breakdown of both machines. "However, we have taken such eventuality into account and are prepared for the worst—namely, that we might have to return all the way from the Pole on foot. We are therefore taking a complete Polar outfit of clothes, footwear, sledges, boats, sleeping bags, rifles, shotguns, ammunition, cooking utensils, etc. As re-

DEBTS AND DINNERS.

(Reuter's Service.)

London, June 3. The "Daily Telegraph's" Geneva correspondent says that a good deal of adverse comment has been aroused by the fact that despite China's inability to pay its annual subscription to the League or the coupons on the bonds, it entertained lavishly four hundred guests at one of the most fashionable hotels at a function that must have cost £1,000. It is recalled that public subscriptions had to be made for the starving people of China.

LOANS COUPONS MET.

The "Times" City correspondent notes that the coupons due yesterday in two out of three Chinese loans were met, and an announcement with regard to the third is expected. He says it is to China's credit that despite political disorders, the service of foreign debt is maintained undisturbed, except in a minor degree, and interest is at present being met on all secured Chinese loans issued in Britain with the exception noted.

London, June 3.—The assertion in Glasgow that Herr Stocker, a member of the Reichstag, did not attend the communist congress but was impersonated by a German resident, is confirmed at Cologne where authoritative Communist circles declare that neither Herr Stocker nor any other German Communist went to Glasgow in consequence of the British official embargo.—Reuter.

Sofia, June 3.—The Government has ordered the demobilisation of the ten thousand extra men which the Ambassadors' Conference permitted to be called to the colours to deal with the Communist menace. The conference previously rejected the application for suspension of demobilisation.—Reuter.

THE SHANGHAI RIOTS.

When the Volunteers rushed into the building, they rounded up several hundreds of men, who were escorted to the police station and searched. No arms were found. The police have released the arrested men.

It is believed that armed rioters escaped through a tunnel under the street to the old "New World" building.

Plans Agley.

The rioters who fired on the Volunteers yesterday had taken up strategic positions, intending to fire on caterers motorizing home-ward in large numbers from the special meeting. The early termination of this upset their programme.

The failure to secure a quorum was due to the absence of the Japanese.

The strike situation in the International Settlement is slightly more tense. The fresh food markets and Chinese shops are closed. The rioters are assaulting and otherwise terrorizing all Chinese remaining in the employment of foreigners, but the French Concession is so far unaffected.

Student "Hot Heads."

PEKING, June 3. The students again held no public meeting yesterday, but the vernacular papers report various meetings in the colleges at which they made extravagant demands such as the withdrawal and punishment of the British Consul-General at Shanghai, the police who killed the students to be sentenced to death, an indemnity paid to the dead rioters' relatives, the British Government to be made to apologise to the Chinese people, in addition to demands for the return of concessions, etc.

It understood that the National University, which usually leads student agitators has decided to strike from to-day as a protest, and is calling all students to gather there to-day for a demonstration against "British Imperialism," also urging that all economic relations be severed with Great Britain and Japan, and that (Chinese) deposits be withdrawn from (British and Japanese) banks, the banknotes of the two countries not to be accepted and no provisions to be sold to their nationals. Chinese employees to be induced to leave British and Japanese employers and students to leave their schools.

Reaching A Settlement.

In connection with the efforts of the Chinese merchants to devise some form of compromise, which will end the present disorders and save the faces of the Municipal Council and students, the "North-China Daily News," editorially believes that the idea is that the students should withdraw the pickets and declare peace. The matter can be referred to Peking for adjustment. The paper says, however, that any interference by the Waichiao should be directed towards the students after the fashion of the order recently issued in Peking, ordering the students back to their class-rooms.

"We appreciate the efforts of the Chinese merchants to restore order, but as these efforts are being directed at present, we tell them frankly that they are wasting their time. There is only one way in which peace can be brought back; that is by the unconditional surrender of the students and other agitators."

Peking To Investigate.

PEKING, June 2nd. The Government has appointed Mr. Tsai Ting-ken and Mr. Tseng Tsung-chien (Vice-Minister for Foreign Affairs) as High Commissioners to investigate the Shanghai affairs. They are expected to leave for there to-morrow.

The Waichiao sent a Note this afternoon to the Italian Minister in his capacity as Senior Minister of the interested Powers, relative to the Shanghai situation. The Note protests against the shooting of the students and requests him to bring the Note to the knowledge of the interested Powers.

The Foreign Office's protest reserves "the right to formulate claims which may result from this deplorable incident, for which the authorities are entirely responsible." The Note requests the Ministers to give "urgent necessary instruction to the Consular Authorities in Shanghai to set at liberty those arrested."

Peking Position.

PEKING, June 3. The students of practically all the Universities and Colleges in Peking are striking to-day, as a protest against the Shanghai affairs. They are holding a monster demonstration and parade this afternoon.

The Legation guards are confined to barracks, and strong pickets are posted at all entrances to the Legation Quarter.

Further Clashes.

SHANGHAI, June 3. Many of the foreigners attacked have been rescued in various districts by active police. Further clashes have taken place in the central districts, in which rioters have been killed or injured. It is known that the casualties up to

DURBAN WELCOMES PRINCE.

CROWDS ON ROOFS.

The March Past a Superb Sight.

Having completed his triumphal tour of the Orange Free State, the Prince of Wales is now receiving a wonderful welcome in Natal.

A SEA OF FACES.

(Reuter's Service.)

Durban, June 3. The Prince of Wales received a very enthusiastic reception at Durban City, which was elaborately and charmingly decorated. Scores of thousands of yelling and cheering spectators crowded the roads, windows, balconies and roofs.

and other fisheries. The town exports tea, sugar, coffee, maize, wool, hides, skins, Angora hair, etc. There are good public buildings and a wireless station. The place is fortified. The population is 69,000 (32,000 whites and many Indians).

TEMPEST OF DRUMS.

Mr. G. Ward Price, a Special Correspondent in H.M.S. Repulse, writing from Accra (Gold Coast),

The smaller map shows the progress of the Prince's tour of South Africa. From Capetown (1) he went to the Orange Free State (2) and then to Basutoland (3). He is now in Natal (4).

The ceremony of welcoming the Prince, held in the square in front of the town hall, was marked by almost continuous cheering and the singing of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

The march past of the battalions of the active citizen force and the naval battalion was a sight.

Durban, formerly Port Natal, is the chief seaport and largest town in Natal. The harbour with the projecting "Bluff" was improved in 1904. Durban is a beautifully laid-out city, with a fine town hall, parks, gardens, Victoria Embankment, and ocean beach. Berea is the handsome suburb. Much of the Transvaal and Orange Free State trade passes through the town, which is noted for its shipping, coaling port, preserves, whale the present among the strikers are 21 killed and 65 wounded. The defenders have had one man seriously wounded and several slightly.

A foreign woman has died as the result of a blow on the head from a brick thrown when rioters attacked a tram.

Armoured cars were rushed this evening into the Western District, where the rioters are concentrating from Chapel suburb, the Chinese control of which gives the strikers a useful base of operations against the Settlement.

Press Hopeful.

Shanghai, June 3. The Evening News, the only evening paper published to-day, considers the situation is not so grave. No doubt the Chinese are feeling the cutting off of food supplies much more acutely than the foreigners, the latter possessing large reserves of foodstuffs, while the arrival of troops relieves the Volunteers and Police of the heavy strain of continuous duty. But there does not yet appear any common ground for compromise. The foreigners are determined to suppress the riots, while the Chinese are too excited to listen to calm counsels. Again, the arrival of fresh batches of frenzied students reinforces the waverers. A steady rain to-night is again emptying the streets.

DAVIS CUP.

TILDEN EXPLAINS POSITION.

U.S. TENNIS.

WEAR AMERICA TEAM FOR WIMBLEDON.

The world's tennis champion, W. T. Tilden, in an exclusive message to "The Sun," indicates that the United States is not likely to be represented in Europe this season by its best players.

William T. Tilden.

Tilden and Richards will probably not be eligible, and "Little Bill" Johnston is being reserved for the Davis Cup, which is not to be sacrificed for the European tour.

The United States Lawn Tennis Association is in a dilemma as to how to obtain a good team to go to Wimbledon and France, writes Tilden who also says:—

Little Bill Johnston was not the choice of the committee, who fear that the long strain of playing abroad would tire him for the Davis Cup matches. This is a most vital matter, especially in view of the fact that it looks as if neither Vincent Richards nor I would be eligible to play because of our ironclad writing contracts.

"Snodgrass, Kinsey, Wallace Johnson, and Williams composed the next group considered, but they were quickly dropped, because the first two named are abroad, Johnson cannot leave his business, and Williams has a bad ankle.

VINCENT RICHARDS.

"The whole question is still being considered, but I think that unless Bill Johnston can go it will be most unfortunate to send any team without him this year. George Loti, Hennessey, and Chapin might possibly accompany Johnston.

"Our chance to lift the women's title at Wimbledon must wait for another year, for Mrs. Mallory, Miss Wills, and other American stars are staying at home this season.

"The open championships commence at Wimbledon on June 22. Tilden and Richards are both tennis writers for newspapers."

LOCAL BASEBALL.

YESTERDAY'S PRACTICE MATCH.

LEAGUE MEETING.

Rain during the day led the Hongkong Baseball Club team to scratch their match yesterday afternoon with U.S.S. Sacramento.

However, the warship put two teams on to the field at Happy Valley and the spectators enjoyed their practice match.

This afternoon the Hongkong Baseball League holds the annual meeting at the American Consulate.

LIKELY COLTS.

BRITAIN'S TENNIS "YOUNGSTERS."

DAVIS CUP TRIAL.

How Britain is systematically trying to regain former tennis laurels is seen from the following:

Unfavourable conditions favoured the Davis Cup lawn tennis trials which were concluded at Wimbledon. Rain had rendered the hard courts of the All England Club, very heavy. Three singles and one doubles match were played, and in the former old Internationals triumphed over new aspirants to Davis Cup honours. While beating E. Higgs by 7-5, 6-2, 6-3, P. G.

P. Gordon Lowe.

Lowe, whose game was the least affected by the conditions, drove well from the back of the court and, when called upon, excelled with his passing shots. Higgs played extremely well, but found it extremely difficult to get to the net.

After winning the first set from J. D. Wheatley, M. V. Summerson, the Northern, was beaten by 6-8, 9-7, 6-3, 7-5. Both Barclay and Gilbert were troubled by the surface conditions, but the latter, who won by 6-1, 6-4, 10-8, was the more sure with his ground strokes, and troubled his opponent with his low-bouncing backhand shots.

The doubles match, in which L. A. Godfree and C. H. Kingsley beat G. R. O. Crole-Rees and J. D. Wheatley by 10-8, 4-6, 6-2, 6-2, provided inconsistent lawn tennis. Kingsley was the best of the four. Godfree's courtship was good, but lack of practice caused him to net a number of low volleys. The loser's play was an alteration of good strokes and bad mistakes. Wheatley being good overhead and Crole-Rees making some good returns to service. Results:—

Singles.—J. D. Wheatley beat M. V. Summerson, 3-6, 9-7, 6-3, 7-5. J. B. Gilbert beat Capt. H. S. L. Barclay 6-1, 6-4, 10-8. P. G. Lowe beat E. Higgs 7-5, 6-2, 6-3.

Doubles.—L. A. Godfree and C. H. Kingsley beat Wheatley and G. R. O. Crole-Rees 10-8, 4-6, 6-2, 6-2.

Mr. W. H. Berry, the leading comedian in "The Bamboula" at His Majesty's Theatre, holed a ball in one stroke at the tenth hole (110 yards) at the Bush Hill Park Golf Club's course, Enfield.

BIG MATCH.

GIBBONS AND GENE TUNNEY.

BOUT THIS MONTH?

Gene Tunney, American lightweight boxing champion, is, according to the last mail, to fight Tom Gibbons, another of the big top-notchers, early this month.

Tom Gibbons.

According to the advice, they will meet at the New York Polo Ground.

Jimmy de Forest is the promoter. Billy Wilson (Tunney's manager) and Eddie O'Donnell (manager of Gibbons) are reported to have signed articles.

GENE TUNNEY.

Gibbons could give considerable trouble to any heavyweight in the world as his record will show and Tunney is one of the best cruiserweights in the world.

Even far away Hongkong will await the result with interest.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Some Nice Points.

(To the Editor of the China Mail).

Sir,—I cannot refrain from replying to the very intriguing letter in your paper of to-day's date signed "A Passenger with Two Tourists from Los Angeles." I would first of all ask your correspondent what subtle difference exists between a passenger and a tourist. Is it perchance a difference of gender or maybe of profession, there being a decided hint from the location Los Angeles that moving pictures are somewhere in the background. With regard to the former alternative there is internal evidence that at least one of the tourists was a male, viz. the tourist with the brand new $35 suit. If I only had the time and you, Sir, only had the space I should like to know a lot more about that $35 suit. Was it Mex. or was it Gold? If Mex. will the P.W.T.F.L.A. kindly supply the name of the tailor?

Turning to your correspondent's exceedingly interesting communication it is not quite plain whether he waited several months for the 1st of June or for the aforesaid American tourist. I think perhaps besides myself would be interested to know what a "would-be first class carriage" was when it wouldn't also what else it was the P.W.T.F.L.A. paid in addition to "not only the legal fare." One is naturally diffident to question the ruling of a purist who can differentiate so nicely between passengers and tourists, but it seems reasonable to suppose that in placing up the notice "Please do not spit," which means naturally please do not spit anywhere, the railway authorities did not consider the possibility of this purist in words differentiating between the different varieties of spit, because the verb to spit is intransitive simply because the grammarians do not recognise sufficient varieties of expectation to make an object necessary. Does the user of Graveley's chewing plug spit more potent spit than the splitter who spits after sucking at a foul old clay pipe? Your correspondent suggests that the public should be prohibited from spitting on the floor of carriages. There is an ancient legend that when a similar notice was exhibited on the Peak Tram in its earlier days somebody reading that they must not spit on the floor spat on the conductor.

Yours etc.

A TAILOR'S FORTUNE.

WIFE WHO BORROWED TO EDUCATE SONS.

EXPERT EVIDENCE.

Mr. Chan, formerly in Government employ as chief Chinese master for language and literature at Queen's College, gave evidence in the Supreme Court this morning as an expert on Chinese law. He had made this his particular study, said Mr. F. C. Jenkin, and was often called upon to give evidence on it.

The case is one which provided a mild sensation a week ago when the plaintiff suddenly withdrew. They had contested the action of a fourth wife or concubine in applying for letters of administration of the estate of a Chinese tailor who had made a large fortune in Hongkong and when they withdrew His Lordship ruled that Mr. F. C. Jenkin, for the defendant woman, would still have to prove her right to administer the estate.

The defendant gave evidence this morning and said that the children of the deceased by another woman, the real heirs to the estate, had been handed over to her charge by their mother before the latter's death. Since the death of the deceased whose estate was in question she had educated them as befitted their station (they had both attended for a while at the Diocesan School). The money for their education and their's and her keep she had had to borrow.

Mr. Chan gave instances from Chinese law in the court this morning of children being handed over to the care of "compassionate" mothers whose rights then became the same as the natural mother.

ST. STEPHEN'S COLLEGE.

SWATOW OLD STUDENTS' DINNER.

A successful dinner was held in the new Keng Fien Restaurant Swatow, on Saturday evening by Old Students of St. Stephen's College, Hongkong. The heads of the table were occupied by Messrs. Teo Yee-swee (Hock Cheung Co.) and Jao Hain-nid (Harbour Office), and other present were Messrs. Fung Man-sui (Manager, Bank of Canton), Lee Hua-kok, Kwok Lap-keung, Kwok Lap-hoi, Kwok Lap-hang, Lim Pah-heng, Sek Pah-ying and Lee Hing-sum. Rev. and Mrs. E. Martin were present from Hongkong.

The chairman, Mr. Teo Yee-swee, in his speech said that Swatow old boys regretted being absent from the farewell dinner recently given to Archdeacon Barnett in Hongkong but they wished him happiness and longevity in England. Many of them had been students of St. Stephen's College in its infancy and all of them were proud of the position which their College had now attained.

FAMILY IDOLS.

PRIVY COUNCIL AND WEALTHY HINDUS.

A legal fight between three wealthy Hindus over family idols was decided by a judgment of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council. There had already been conflicting judgments by courts in Calcutta.

"A rich Hindu plausibly set up three family gods. The care of them passed eventually to three grandsons, who were to act each for a year at a time, in turn, as shebait or trustee of the gods.

The dispute arose upon the question whether the shebait during his term of office was entitled to remove the gods to his own house or shrine for worship.

The claimant to this right, one of the three grandsons, was Pramadath Nath Mullik. Lord Shaw said that their lordships were of opinion that it would be better that a disinterested friend should be appointed by the court, that the members of the family should be joined, and that a scheme should be framed for the regulation of the worship of the idols.

The case would be remitted to the High Court in India, to be dealt with in accordance with this report. The decisions of both courts below would necessarily be set aside and the parties must bear their own costs.

BIRCH FOR THIEF.

At the Kowloon Magistracy this morning a Chinese lad was sentenced to 12 strokes of the birch for stealing a suit of $20 from his master, a furniture maker at Shamshuipo. The money was extracted from a drawer during the absence of the master.

A Chinese was taken to the Government Civil Hospital yesterday afternoon as the wheels of a truck had passed over his chest.

RENTS LAW.

SUB-TENANTS AND INCREASES.

MORE PROTECTION.

It was announced in the Legislative Council meeting this afternoon that the recommendation of Mr. Chow Shou-son in regard to intermediate tenants and increase of rent had been incorporated in the Rents Amendment Bill. This will make it illegal for any intermediate landlord to increase the rent to anyone else by a greater percentage than that demanded by his immediate lessor.

Mr. Alabaster's point had also been considered and a proviso made that if a tenant did not want to pay the increased rent he could get out at once and not have to stop on for a month at the increased rent.

HOUSE THEFT.

Mr. Sverre Berg, director of Messrs. Thoreson and Company, has reported to the Police a theft of bank notes amounting to $195 from his residence, 25 Tregunter Mansions, May Road.

FALL FROM ROOF.

A Chinese working on the roof of a building at No. 351 The Peak yesterday, rolled to the ground, a distance of 23 feet. He was badly injured and had to be taken to hospital.

FLIGHT TO CONGO.

NATIVES' FIRST SIGHT OF AEROPLANE.

Lieutenant Thieffry, the Belgian airman, has completed his great flight from Brussels to the Congo, arriving at Kinshasa, Stanley Pool, on his Handley-Page 1,200 h.p. machine.

It was the first time an aeroplane had been seen in this part of the world, and a great concourse of Europeans and natives welcomed the airman. Lieut. Thieffry was accompanied by M. Roger, who acted as pilot, and M. de Bruycker, engineer.

The route taken from Brussels was via Perpignan (Pyrenees), Oran (Algeria), Colon-Bechar (Morocco), Gao (Niger River), Fort Lamy (Lake Chad), Bangui (on the Franco-Belgian frontier of Congo), and Coghilaville, on the Equator.

News was received by telegraph of the airman's departure from Coghilaville, and a signal was given two hours before their expected arrival by the firing of cannon, etc. The Government offices and business houses closed, the town was gaily decorated, and special trains and motor-cars carried the white population from Leopoldville and Kinshasa out to the landing place.

A dinner and ball were given in honour of the airman, who returned to Antwerp by boat on April 9.

TAX ON FATNESS.

PLAN FOR BETTER HEALTH.

Mr. Churchill in his Budget has overlooked a possible source of revenue which has just been proposed in America. Dr. Lulu Hunt Peters, a food expert, at Washington advocated the imposition of a graduated Federal tax for fat people.

Addressing the League of American Penwomen, she declared that if legislative effect could be given to the watchword "Grow thin or pay taxes" the health of the nation would undergo an all-round improvement.

Millions of people, she argued, would immediately set to work on the scientific study of dieting rather than pay taxes on overweight.

There was a rumour, more or less well authenticated, aboard the Malwa, says the "Malay Mail," that at the beginning of the voyage a certain passenger pressed the sum of £1 into the hand of one of the ship's officers with the intimation that it was his if the donor was placed next to Prince George at table.

The officer smiled, and pocketing the money, said it would come in handy for the ship's sports fund. Needless to say, the donor was not gratified in the manner desired by being included in the number of those at the captain's table. And, as a cheerful lady reminded us at the Town Hall the other night, "Heaven help the Baller" who has to pocket not only a sum of money, but efforts of this type from the baser sort of passenger.

CHOPPER ASSAULT.

CHARGE AGAINST HOUSE COOLIE.

A quarrel between a house coolie and a cook boy employed at 3 Humphreys Buildings over some house work resulted in the latter having to be taken to hospital with chopper wounds on his feet said to have been inflicted by his fellow worker.

The sequel was enacted at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning when the coolie, was formally charged with assault and remanded for one week.

MISSING.

GIRL WHO WENT OUT WITH JEWELS.

A young wife and a daughter are missing from their homes in the same locality.

From the second floor of No. 121, First Street, a husband of 20 has missed his wife who is only 17 years of age.

Going out with cash and jewellery to the total value of $140, a girl of 15 has failed to return to her mother, living at No. 101, Third Street, (first floor). Both places are in the western police district.

"OUR CABARET"

FINE STAR THEATRE ATTRACTION.

The Star Theatre management hit on the right thing in the entertainment line when they engaged "Our Cabaret" for a short season. The selection was endorsed by a large audience at last night's opening, and everybody was kept in right good humour.

The programme was full of variety, songs, dances, comedies and short sketches being mixed in the right proportion, and each item possessed great entertaining qualities.

Madge Carter sang charmingly and did well in other ways. Delyse showed herself to be an accomplished dancer and was seen at her best in company with her partner, Jan Carvill, in "Vale D'Amour." Reginald Sebeck delighted the audience with a perfect rendering of an old melody and got mixed up in other items much to the satisfaction of the house. Frank Milne, the comedian, supplied laughter in abundance. Muriel Varns also scored success in her comedy turns. Charles Chamier and Gertrude Clegg had no little share in the success of the entertainment as a whole.

"Our Cabaret" will continue to entertain until Saturday.

OUR KING.

HONGKONG OBSERVES 60th BIRTHDAY.

EXPRESSIONS OF ROYALTY.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT THE BALL.

Yesterday the King's Birthday was honoured in Hongkong with the usual loyalty, the principal toast and expression at Club and many homes being the health and prosperity of His Majesty and the hope that he might long be spared to reign over his subjects.

Unfortunately the proposed naval and military parade could not take place, Hongkong not being graced with the smiles which, according to Reuters, the sun bestowed on the historic trooping of the colours by the Horse Guards at Whitehall. However, lacking in that it was not found possible for it to take place, H.M. Navy and the mercantile boats in port "dressed ship."

According to Reuters, congratulations on the King's sixtieth birthday began to arrive at the Palace early in the morning, including messages from all over the Empire. The Prince of Wales and Prince George, the latter en route to Weihaiwei from Shanghai, cabled their congratulations also. The official celebration was the trooping of the colours of the Horse Guards. Marshall Foch participated as representative of France. The weather was brilliant and the ground packed with sightseers.

The King's Birthday Ball followed a reception held by His Excellency the Governor (Sir Edward Stubbs, K.C.M.G.) at Government House yesterday evening, festivities commencing in the neighbourhood of 10 o'clock. The fairy electric lamps with which the paths in the garden were hung gave the grounds a most picturesque appearance and this could be best appreciated from the numerous sitting-out places on the lawn to which a covered and flag-bedecked way led from the House.

In the entrance hall was placed a large scarlet "Spider Hawks" orchid and the staircase leading from there to the ball-room and the ball-room itself were pleasingly decorated with masses of pink hydrangeas whilst from the ceiling were suspended baskets of pink and white lotus. The verandahs and other rooms immediately adjoining the ball-room, on which supper was served, were also prettily decorated.

The guests were received by His Excellency Sir Edward Stubbs, K.C.M.G., and Mrs. Luard, wife of Major-General C. C. Luard, C.B., C.M.G., Officer Commanding the troops in China.

The following is the list of those invited to the Reception and Ball:

WHY there are more than a million Buicks

There would not be more than a million Buicks in active use to-day if Buick had not, through the years, produced a motor car of unvarying and superior quality. In every detail, every Buick is an example of how well a motor car can be built.

Mr. J. Callers, a carpenter, of Shrewsbury, lost more than £200 in notes, burnt in a fire in his workshop.

Renter cables that Admiral Lovison, in the "Morning Post" calls attention to the lack of a suitable Seamen's Institute at Shanghai and hopes contributions will be forthcoming from Britain to supplement the anticipated generous provision by the small community of Shanghai people.

Less whisky is being consumed in Scotland and less alcohol generally. Dr. J. D. Comrie told the Royal Commission on Lunacy. Dr. Comrie, who is superintendent of the early mental ward at the Edinburgh Royal Infirmary, said that the percentage of alcoholism cases had fallen from 40 per cent. in 1913 to 26 per cent. in 1923-24. He did not think the decline in drinking was due to legislation, but was voluntary. People were more abstemious because of the price of drink and unemployment had something to do with it.

A New York message records the death of Mrs. Mary A. Saunders, who claimed to be the first demonstrator of the typewriter, 50 years ago. She opened a typewriter school in London in 1871 and retired in 1906. Mrs. Saunders, who died in her home in Leonardo, New Jersey, went to New York from Nova Scotia, hoping to obtain a position as church organist. She was selected from 300 applicants in response to a newspaper advertisement for a woman to take an easy and remunerative position: a musician preferred. Proceeding to an address in Broadway, she was shown what looked like a sewing machine. In two weeks Mrs. Saunders was writing at the phenomenal speed at that time of 70 words a minute, her achievement being a source of great joy to G. W. N. Yost, the inventor.

Dr. Purvis's paper on ship-building in Japan, read to the Institute of Naval Architects at their annual meeting in London in April, was well received and an interesting discussion followed. Admiral Toyoda, Japanese naval attaché, spoke highly of Dr. Purvis's valuable services as professor of naval architecture at the Imperial University, and Commander Taji (an old student, now in civil life), testified in the same strain. Sir Philip Vatte, formerly chief constructor at the British Admiralty, was unable to attend but sent a written contribution. Sir Archibald Denny, of the famous Clyde firm, and Sir John Biles, lately professor of naval architecture at Glasgow University, also took part in the talk. Dr. and Mrs. Purvis are still in London but probably will take up their permanent residence in the south coast before the end of summer.

British osteopaths (bone doctors) are to wait on the Minister of Health to claim official recognition.

"Among the peoples suffering from Western civilisation" were, sadly lacking. Behind in higher education for every hundred thousand inhabitants Switzerland sent 228 to the university; Germany, the United States, and Scotland each sent about 173; France sent 90; Denmark sent 59; and England sent only 74," says Alderman Chuter Ede.

An interesting advertisement appears in the vernacular press announcing the issue of lottery tickets by order of Marshal Chang Chung-chang, Tapan of Shantung and Commander-in-chief of the First Fengtien Army. The proceeds will be applied to the relief of destitute soldiers and the bereaved families of warriors killed in action during the recent campaign. The present issue consists of 50,000 tickets to be sold at $10 each and each ticket is divided into ten parts of $1 each. The first prize is $100,000.

In future a husband and wife will not be appointed to the same commission or the peace unless the circumstances are exceptional. No statutory reason exists why husbands and wives who are magistrates should not sit on the same bench at the same time, but the Lord Chancellor, Viscount Cave, does not consider it advisable that they should do so. Women were first appointed to the commission of the peace in 1920, and a number of instances have occurred where wives of existing magistrates have been recommended for appointment by the borough or county advisory committees.

"The people who spend freely on themselves and begrudge even the crumbs that fall from their lavish table to others less fortunate; the man who carefully selects the costly dinner, and cuts down the waiter's tip, or who buys expensive cigars and grumbles when his wife wants a little more for a growing family; the woman who spends large sums on her clothes, yet boasts down the prices of the struggling seamstress; these are the real niggards," writes Lady Nott-Bower in the Evening News. "But do not be in too great a hurry to include in this category every woman who saves a penny bus-fare, or who turns out the hall lamp! Just watch how she spends the money she has contrived to save. If it all goes willingly and joyfully to the welfare of husband and children, or people, then surely her 'mean'ness deserves a kinder epithet."

So that he should not be buried in a pauper's grave, the Leicester ship branch of the British Legion paid for the funeral of an unknown man found on the road near Leicester who had papers showing that he was an ex-Serviceman.

A shark measuring over seven feet, and weighing more than a ton, was landed at Cardiff by the steam trawler Miami. It was caught 250 miles west of Lundy Island, and its capture involved a struggle of over thirty minutes' duration.

A Berlin dog-stealer, who has made large sums by selling dogs, pleaded in court that it was not his fault, but his misfortune, that he had a mysterious fascination for the canine race. Any dog was lost once it set eyes on him. Even a film star's picture pet and a prize pugilist's pug pup had followed him home. Unimpressed by this meager gift, the magistrate gave the dog fancier two months.

"Are young people getting more and more blasé and difficult to amuse?" says a writer after leaving the successful dance which Mrs. William Dorell gave for her son Oswald and his friends up for Eton Long Leave. First of all, a number of artists came on from the Café de Paris, and gave a short cabaret performance; then there was dancing, followed by supper and an amusing turn by a man who sang popular songs at the piano. But the "clou" of the party was the eagerly awaited and carefully timed arrival of the wonderful Wembley seal, who, when released from his travelling crate, flopped rapidly and readily up the stairs and made a triumphal tour of the crowded rooms, besides performing some clever tricks. What a contrast from the days when what were somewhat euphemistically termed "games" constituted the sole alternative to dancing at every young people's party.

Here is a remarkable letter which an East Indian firm in London has received from a native agency in Calcutta:—"Dear Sirs—We are duly in receipt of your favour. By this mail we have nothing specially profound to say. With deep regret however, which reads our aggrieved hearts, we beg to announce that a deep misty cloud recently hovered over us for eight days. It did not clear away until it successfully washed off our hands our most steady, energetic, and pious junior manager. Breathing his last on the night of the 28th ultimo, and leaving us to look after his pail with wistful and fearful eyes, he leapt up to his everlasting green celestial palace in the heaven above. Awaiting further instructions, we are, etc."

Mr. E. W. Lewis, of the Hongkong Electric Company, Staff-Sergeant, Engineer, Company of the Volunteer Defence Corps, was the recipient yesterday morning of parting gifts from officers, N.C.O.'s and men of the Company, prior to his departure from the Colony on Saturday. A large framed and inscribed photograph of the Company (from members of the Company), and a silver cigarette box from officers, and N.C.O.'s were presented to Mr. Lewis by Capt. McVillie, S.M.C. who thanked him for the hard work he had put in for the Engineers in his spare time.

Mr. E. J. Davidson, British Consul in Tokyo, has been delegated by the Japanese Government, with the consent of the British Government, to be the travelling companion to Prince Chichibu, the Second Imperial Son, on his voyage from Japan to England, according to an announcement from the Imperial Household Department. Mr. Davidson is quoted as saying that he regarded his selection for the mission as one of the greatest honours that could be accorded him by Japan. He said that as soon as the Prince was well settled in England he would return to Tokyo to resume his consular duties, probably some time in September. Mr. Davidson recalled that this was the first time that a direct son of the Emperor and the Empress had made such a long visit to England. Prince Chichibu's journey, should be expected to extend over four years. He said he was sure the Prince would be made to feel at home with the family of the Drummond, which is one of the most distinguished in England.

Mr. A. H. Fenwick, on the staff of the Hongkong University, left for Sydney yesterday by the s.s. Tunda.

Mrs. Hicks, Ramsgate's billenting officer, has received from a visitor this slogan: "You can't beat the best, and at Ramsgate they stock it, Ozone for your health and respect for your pocket."

Empire Day was appropriately celebrated in Kobo with a programme of Children's athletic sports held on the Kobo Recreation Ground under the auspices of the Kobo Branch of the Overseas League. Last year a down-pour of rain made it necessary to hold the sports indoors in the Gymnasium but this year nature smiled on the proceedings and all of the events were held out of doors. Following the completion of the athletic programme tea was served to both children and grown-ups in the Gymnasium. H.B.M. Consul-General, Mr. R.G.E. Forster, C.M.G., addressed the children and Mrs. Forster presented the prizes.

General Lord Plumer, to whom birthday congratulations were recently due, is a soldier whose skill is only equalled by the careful precision of his dress, the nice adjustment of his monocle, the extreme politeness of his manner, even in times of greatest stress, and his unflinching coolness. His friends know him also as a delightful storyteller, one of his favourite yarns concerning an incident when, as a major, he was sent to inspect an outlying fort, and found the officer in charge intoxicated. He immediately placed the offender under arrest, but somehow he contrived to escape, and getting to the telegraphic station, wired a message to his superior person that the Colonel's Secretary, Mr. Minnie, had been kidnapped by a band of desperadoes. What a pleasant blood-

That the beauty of some of India's magical sights is not always lost on them is shown by the story of the American globe trotter and his loquacious wife. From the time the couple had left New York with their fellow-tourists the lady's tongue had wagged incessantly. Her husband, long tired, bore it all patiently, but his triumph came at Agra on a moonlight evening. He could not resist publishing it to the world. Exultantly he dispatched a telegram to New York:—"Taj wins; mother mute."

A wedding, in which all who took part, including the bride, bridegroom, and bridesmaids, were connected with the medical profession recently took place at Christ Church, Hendon. The parties were Dr. John Wallace Mann, of 2, Avenue Gate, Upper Norwood, and Dr. Margaret Alwen Howell, lately on the staff of the North-Eastern Hospital, Tottenham. The bride was given away by her uncle (Dr. J. B. Howell, medical officer for Hammersmith). The two bridesmaids were Dr. Elsie Mann, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Nancy Howell, the bride's sister, who is a medical student.

The appearance of Sir Sidney Lee's biography of King Edward recalls a little incident that happened many years ago in the smoking-room of the Marlborough Club. One of his most intimate friends—the late Lord Farrington, if memory serves aright—was rallying King Edward upon his well-known habit of making notes on the back of envelopes or any other stray piece of paper that came handy. "Think of the trouble you are causing your future biographer," laughed the King's friend. "Yes," replied His Majesty, with a smile, "I fear that anyone who attempts to write my 'life' will have very little material to work upon." And such, indeed, was the case. King Edward's papers were very scanty indeed, while he never kept a diary in his life.

The Saratoga, fifth vessel to bear that name in midstream just after having been launched at Camden, and christened by Mrs. C. D. Wilbur (wife of America's Navy Secretary) April 7. The Saratoga is the longest naval vessel in the world and the fastest of all aeroplane carriers, having 888 feet overall length, 108 feet beam. Her electric power plant develops 180,000 horsepower, enough to supply all needs of a city of a million persons, and more than the combined power of the six electric drive capital ships now in commission. Seventy aeroplanes of all sizes will be carried on the unique vessel which also will be armed with 8 inch guns.

"See what the half-back was going to do. Suddenly Kitty pinched my arm. I looked at her.

"Jack, isn't it exciting?" I was happy. At last she was interested. "Wonderful!" I replied with my eyes shining.

"That man there—" I said.

"Yes—that fellow." I was overjoyed to see how she had grasped the situation.

"See him?" she asked.

"Yes, of course." As if I would miss anything!

"Look to right—no, the left." I pointed to the man who was behind the half-back.

"Well, what about it, Kitty?" I asked.

She was becoming nervous. These

"Yes, yes—what?"

I was now all worked up to the highest pitch of tension.

"Well, right there—a bit to the left. I bought a hat yesterday just like the one that girl has on!"
